SONG OF THE SPHERES

by Marie Johndro

Out from Pluto's nothingness where no thing is revealed,
Came I unto Neptune, then, where nothing is concealed.
There in dreams unending passed the idle days,
Till all mists ascending I learned Uranus ways.
He, the mighty planner in the cosmic scheme,
Sent me on my journey, waken'd from the dream.
On to plane of Saturn, patience great I learned,
While long years rolled by me, as for light I yearned.
Slowly from the darkness, onward still I came
To the bounteous giver - - Jupiter his name.
Here were countless blessings given unto me;
From all lack and bondage Jove now set me free.
Mars, the god of action, gave me strength to do,
And so I paused with him a while ere choosing paths anew.
Then Venus in her beauty called in tones of love,
And showed me pleasant pastures with bluest skies above.
Fain would I have lingered with Venus all the while,
To watch the lovelight in her eyes, the wonder of her smile.
But Mercury soon beckoned and I had all to learn
About the telling of my life on each star in its turn.
From Mercury unto the Moon where further knowledge lay--
Strange paths were these I passed along upon my starry way.

* * * * *

By dream and plan and patience and gift of friendly Jove,
Through winning and through doing, I reached the plane of love.
With speech and that by Mercury taught, to that pale orb of night
Where all the knowledge of all time is gathered in her light,
I brought my mite of knowing -- however small it be --
To reflect it in the Moon's light that all men's eyes may see.

* * * * *

So thus at last, the planets passed, my lengthy journey done,
I am a spark of wisdom -- NOW. A dweller in the Sun.

Words but voice "the music of the spheres" in prose and poetry. Even their sound (phonetic) sense is often their sound (meaning) sense; as for example: Venus "we and us"; Uranus "you ran us"; Saturn "sat (set) you are on" -- that is, fixed, immovable, at rest.

The spiritual Self or Ego (the sun), as a spark of the immortal flame we term life, glows, radiates and shines as "I am that I am" - as that which you ARE. Part, a small part, of that radiant Self is intercepted by and reflected back by the planets to and through you as an earthly or mortal body or organism. These reflections constitute your "plan its" the plans Life or the Self (sun) has for you in the flesh during your physical pilgrimage. These "plan its" (planets) manifest first as words ("In the beginning was the WORD, and the Word was made flesh" -- and creates circumstances). Therefore know and watch your words and choose them with care. They are the bricks of your material structures. Your knowledge or ignorance of their true meanings and use becomes respectively the good mortar binding your "plan its" together into a "rounded whole" as your planets go their orbital ways, or the bad mortar that allows your plans to crumble into ruin and dust.....

Each planet is electrically charged by the bombardment of solar electromagnetic waves (light). Each planet oscillates on a definite series of harmonics of light frequencies; these harmonics being properties of each planet's respective volume, mass and density. Hence different words are associated with each planet just as a different vibration is associated with the different notes of the musical scale.....

The angular relations of the planets as seen from the sun at the time of your birth, define the association of their words into the messages of your radiant Spirit. The angular relations of the planets as seen from the earth at the time of your birth, define the association of their words into messages telling you, the mortal (earth), now you respond to the Spirit. The usual horoscope deals with the letter as defining, from a "practical" or materialistic standpoint, your word-building into personality and circumstances. In psychoanalytic problems, however, both the heliocentric (sun) and geocentric (earth) horoscopes must be consulted; since it is the conflict by contrasts between the angles from these two centers that gives rise to the knotty problems with which psychologists have to deal. But the given planetary words hold true for both kinds of horoscopes, and those who would better understand their true Self need only to set up their horoscope from a heliocentric ephemeris in order to utilize this dictionary for that purpose, as the heliocentric angles or aspects between the planets have the same significance as like geocentric aspects, and of course the same zodiacal blanks and same aspectarian forms can be used for plotting and tabulating your heliocentric horoscope.

Few words are given to the Sun because few words express the "I am". Moreover, "I am" all the planets, and more; yet they and their words are all of me I can express in the flesh, and I (sun) cannot express all my radiant angles short of as many lives as are required to exhaust the total degrees of the zodiac and the total possible angles between the planets as a whole..... Study the cover design as a key to the proper approach to the Astrological Dictionary.

The planets' abbreviations following words in the lists mean: (a) That the preceding word (and often its derivatives) is "ruled" by the planet in whose list it appears, but qualified in detail by the planet or planets whose initial follows the word in parenthesis. Examples: Under Mercury is "Governess (V)", meaning a tutor (Mercury) of the young (V,Venus); under Mercury is "Mutter (S)", meaning to speak [Mercury in a very low (Saturn)]tone; under Mercury is "Subpoena (U,J,S)", meaning a writ (Mercury) commanding (Uranus) appearance at court (Jupiter) to testify under oath (Saturn); under Mercury is "Typewriter (U,V)", meaning writing (Mercury) machine (Uranus) operated by touch (Venus); under Uranus is the word "Waterpower (N)", power (Uranus) developed by water (Neptune) -- this word could be listed under Neptune as "waterpower (U)", but as water is here only incidental to the objective, power, it is more properly listed under Uranus and qualified by Neptune. Where a word is really compound look for it in both lists, as for the sake of condensation it is seldom repeated under both.

(b) That the preceding word is ruled entirely by the bracketed planet when another meaning of the word is implied. Examples: Under Uranus is "Variety (N)". As a succession of different (Uranus) things this word is ruled by Uranus and might be qualified by Jupiter (succession, order), but when by variety we mean diversity (difference without order, or an unorderly assortment of many things) it is more a Neptune word, closely connoting the Neptune words chaos, confusion. Under Uranus is "transportation(N)". This is a Uranus word when we mean conveyance on land by train, truck, auto (Uranus); but it is a Neptune word qualified by Uranus when we mean shipping overseas.

As you learn to visualize the different natures of the planets by scanning their word lists, you will come to know which planet connotes the different meanings that attaches to many words. In this way both students and non-students can add many words to these lists by studying them carefully in conjunction with Webster. Words having many different meanings are omitted as space would not admit citing the meaning.

To students of orthodox astrological texts quite a few words will at first appear to be wrongly assigned. Where this seems to them to be the case, the author invites the student to keep an open mind and suspend judgment, as it is proposed to follow this compilation with another treatise that will make very clear the reasons for any departures from earlier authorities, as well as clarify the principle underlying the assignment of tone and subtone natures to each arm of each aspect as cited under "THE ASPECTS", pages 26 to 34. In fact the author promises the later treatise will be a revelation for which the present work clears the way by breaking down prejudices against certain sweeping changes in one fundamental astrological concept too long accepted by copyists as unquestionably true. That objective is the prime purpose in issuing The Astrological Dictionary and Self-reading Horoscope method for testing and proving the soundness of the work to follow - a work that will further extend and exemplify the use of this dictionary and interpretative method.

The limited lists of words follow. That the lists are longest for Saturn and Uranus is partly due to the author's opportunities to check them. The compilation has revealed, however, that in all probability if the entire words of Webster were assigned to the planets (sine Sun), the number of words to each planet would bear a very close relation to the respective masses of the planets. This would be a significant fact.

The conjunction (0 Degrees) and every 15 degrees or multiples thereof are electrical axes found in various substances capable of taking on a crystalline structure in passing from a liquid or fused state to a solid. These axes intersect, forming mutual angles. These same angular relations (which in astrology are termed "aspects") between the planets, as seen from the earth, the stage of our life dramas, at the times of our births, define the patterns of our lives as expressed in personality, health, aptitudes, circumstances, etc. Why this is so is being made clear by the advance of electrophysics.

For simplicity each 15 degrees of the circle may be viewed, broadly, as alternately positive and negative, extrovertive and introvertive. In this general sense we tabulate them into two groups, as follows:

A. Aspects

Angle of Aspect	East Planet		West Planet
	Tone	Subtone	Tone	Subtone
0	Mercury	Mercury	*Pluto	Pluto
30	Mercury	Mars	Pluto	Neptune
60	Venus	Saturn	Neptune	Saturn
90*	Mars	Neptune	Neptune	Mars
120	Mars	Mercury	Uranus	Mercury
150	Jupiter	Mars	Saturn	Neptune

B. Aspects

Angle of Aspect	East Planet		West Planet
	Tone	Subtone	Tone	Subtone
15	Mercury	Venus	Pluto	Pluto
45	Venus	Jupiter	Pluto	Uranus
75	Venus	Uranus	Neptune	Jupiter
105	Mars	Pluto	Uranus	Venus
135	Jupiter	Venus	Uranus	Pluto
165	Jupiter	Jupiter	Saturn	Uranus
180	*Jupiter	Jupiter	Saturn	Saturn

*See Examples on the Nature of Aspects, pages 28-33

In your initial studies in interpreting your horoscope you may, for simplicity, adhere to this general classification into A and B aspects using, for the most part, words of good qualities when the planet forms any of the A aspects (See*above) with other planets, and the words of bad qualities when the planet forms any of the B aspects(See *above). By this simple method alone you will find your horoscope a mine of information.

However, this rough and ready distinction of aspects into just two groups is not strictly true nor complete, for each aspect in both groups has a series of far more specific meanings, some good and some bad; and these you must consider when you become more familiar with the following instructions. The truth is, each aspect, like each planet, is good for something and also good for nothing (bad for some things). We can obtain some good from any aspect if we use it for its right purpose, and we may suffer through any aspect if we try to use it out of time, place and purpose. Therefore you must learn more about each arm (end) of each aspect. To this end study very carefully what now follows.

When any two planets form any aspect except an exact conjunction, they are respectively east and west of each other in the zodiac, and as shown by the tone and subtone planets (given above) the aspect has a very different meaning for each of the two planets forming the aspect. Refer now to your horoscope. Suppose Jupiter (any planet) was on the line between Sagittarius and Capricorn and Venus (any planet) was on the line between Aquarius and Pisces. Then the angle between Jupiter and Venus, as seen from the earth, E (or center of the horoscope) would be just two signs, or 60 degrees, as each sign has 30 degrees, the 12 signs making the 360 degrees of the circle of the heavens. In such a case (Venus(V) would be east of Jupiter and Jupiter would be west of Venus. But suppose Venus was on the line between Libra and Scorpio. In such a case Venus and Jupiter would still form a 60 degree angle, but Venus would be west of Jupiter and Jupiter east of Venus. Venus, Jupiter and Neptune (or any other planets) were in the relations V,J,N, corresponding to Aries, Cancer and Libra (or any other signs in like relations), Venus would be 90 west of Neptune, Neptune 90 east of Venus and 90 west of Jupiter, Jupiter 90 east of Neptune, and Venus and Jupiter equally east and west of each other by opposition (180). It should be clear that no matter what the angle between the planets, east in the zodiac is anti-clockwise (as Capricorn, Aquarius, Pisces, Etc) and west is clockwise (as Sagittarius, Scorpio, Libra, etc) throughout the entire circle. Centuries ago the early astrologers used the terms "dexter" and "sinister", and rightly made a great distinction in interpretation. This distinction has been obscured and neglected in modern times, and it is herewith restored and revised in a manner admitting of unlimited elaboration.

Therefore in the A and B crude groupings of aspects there is given under "East Planet" and "West Planet", the planetary tone and subtone of each arm of each aspect. The reason for this will appear in a later work; meanwhile accept the fact and use it. Thus for the 120 degree aspect the eastern planet in the aspect takes upon its own word nature a tone of the planet Mars and a subtone of the planet Mercury. The western planet in this aspect takes upon its own nature a tone of Uranus and a subtone of Mercury. For example: The planet holding the east arm would retain its own word nature - but it would also make one executive (Mars minded (Mercury)). The planet holding the west arm would retain its own word nature, but it would also express its qualities through inventive (Uranus) mindedness (Mercury). Mr. Henry Ford's horoscope shows four close 120 degree aspects by way of verifying this principle. Indeed it is only by reason of these tone and subtone principles ("wheels within wheels") that the Sun, Moon and 8 planets and 13 aspects can and do govern life in all its modern complexities -- traits, activities, conditions.

Just a few contrasting definitions of aspects will follow to aid you in using The Astrological Dictionary and in reasoning out for yourself hundreds of other details about each aspect and the vast distinction between its east and west arm in each case. In this you are always to make the words of qualities of the subtone planet serve the words of qualities of the tone planet, and both serve the word nature of the planet forming the aspect. At first this will appear as a difficult or impossible feat of analysis and synthesis; but as you become more familiar with the words listed under each planet you will get so clear a picture of what each rules in all parts of speech, that you will become amazed over what you will discover about yourself as you persist in developing your powers of deduction and inference. It is just a matter of combining and recombining the horoscopically indicated words.

N.B. -- In studying your horoscope, or in using the aspects and dictionary for checking up on world events in the figures of eclipses and lunations, you must not depend entirely on the following fragmentary aspect meanings, but rather learn by studying "Example 2" how to make up other aspect phrases or meanings from the words connoting the tone and subtone planets thereby extending your understanding of any matter that may arise for study or judgment. The cited meanings of each arm of the aspects are among those the author has tested, but the meanings are so many only a few can be given in this condensation. Even with the limited number of words in The Astrological Dictionary it is almost if not quite impossible to exhaust the specific meanings of the aspects. Each time you recombine their tone and subtone words you will add to your store of information and find it true. The same astrological truths could not be discovered and collected by centuries of observation of horoscopes, but by this basic principle and the lists of words you can tell what planets and aspects are involved in most any problem, and knowing this you can scan the horoscope for the verification or answer to your problem. Neither mysticism nor intuition is involved. It is purely an orderly mechanical arrangement of all the allowable indicated words qualifying the planets forming the aspect and the planets constituting the tone and subtone of each end of the aspect. If you can in the least measure solve cross-word or jig-saw puzzles you can solve your horoscope by this method, making it a phonograph record or an automatic mechanical loudspeaker rendering your program from the planets relative positions at the time of your birth.

As heretofore Astrological texts have taught that 0,30,60,120 are "good" aspects, and the 45,90,135,180 are always "bad" aspects (while ignoring entirely the 15, 75, 105 and 165), an added clarifying note on the 0,90,180 is given. But always consider each end of an aspect on its own merits or demerits.

In these citations East examples meanings to be blended with the word-nature of the east planet, and West examples meanings to be blended with the word-nature of the west planet.

0 or 360 Aspect

This is termed conjunction; meaning with, while, during, unison, alpha and omega; the A to Z of anything; nothing (0) or everything (360); birth or idiocy on the one hand, or a complete span of life intellectually devoted to the things ruled by the planets forming the aspect. When, as in nearly all cases, this aspect is not exact, table A, page 25, shows its east arm (or planet) takes on the tones of Mercury, and its west arm the tones of Pluto. It is thus the aspect of mindless mind - lack (P) of intelligence (Me) - or the thinking (Me) and telling (Me) mind (Me) - oratory, eloquence, teacher, lecturer, writer, interpreter, etc.

When the two planets are 2 to 5 degrees apart, the east planet tends to abortive beginnings in learning along lines ruled by the east planet, and the west planet falls a little short of completing its intellectual task in an entire lifetime. The west planet may indicate either weakness, blunders, folly, or a mastery of nonsense, detail, precision, mystery(P).

Representing either, or both, zero (0) and infinity (360), the conjunction is common in the horoscopes of those who approach life with either, or both, microscopic or telescopic vision rather than with a vision for ordinary volume, distance or time. They may be nonentities, unassuming scientists probing the infinitesimal, or macrocosmic giants of intelligence who know no expansive or elaboration limits and tolerate no half-measures (contrast with the 180). They may understand (Me) themselves or our solar system as but specks in infinity, or they may develop the idea (Me) that they are "IT" (P). Examples of the latter are Napoleon's and the ex-Kaiser's Mars conjunction Neptune - obsession (N) for world (N) conquest (M). In both cases Mars was east (alpha) and Neptune west (omega); their circle beginning in war (M) and ending in respective banishment (N) and abdication (N). For examples of the better effect of conjunctions:

(a) Sun conjunction Mercury: Bacon, Poe, Bergson, Tolstoi, Gladstone, Verne, Haggard, Maupaussant, Dante, Kant, Hardy, etc.

(b) Sun conjunction Venus: Shaw, Wagner, Shelley, etc.

(c) Sun conjunction Mars; Henry Irving, Belasco, Edwin Booth, etc.

Note that the first group expressed the intellectual and interpretative tone of Mercury as brilliant (Su) writers (Me), thinkers or speakers (Me). The second group expressed the intellectual Mercury tone as brilliant (Su), dramatist (V), composer (V) and poet (V). The third group expressed the intellectual tone of Mercury as brilliant (Su) actors (M). Now contrast these with the case of an idiot born with wide conjunctions of the Sun with Uranus, Moon and Mercury, all west of the Sun, taking a Pluto tone, thus crippling(P) the Moon, Mercury and Uranus faculties through his life (Su). Study the case of Kipling, with Sun 0 Jupiter and Mercury 0 Venus and Mars; or Shakespeare, with Moon 0 Sun, Venus 0 Neptune and Jupiter 0 Saturn.

Try to familiarize yourself with these principles, as the other aspects must here be explained more briefly.

90 Aspect

This aspect, termed a square, is "on the square" in proportion to its exactness. When it is 85 to 89 degrees it is under-square and tends to more or less unsquareness or crookedness - practiced or met with as the case may be. When it is 91 to 95 degrees, it is over-square or over-righteous and cheats oneself, or receives more than due from others, by giving and demanding too much, or it makes for obnoxious moralizing and snobbery. The square is a "neutral phase", electrically speaking; meaning that when it is exact there is no "mutual induction" (inducement) between the two planets - nothing the one planet disposes to is influenced by the other. Hence there is often deals and cross-purposes without mutual results. It stands for neutrality and delay alternated by precipitous action.

East - Highseas (N) accidents or wars (M); overseas or world (N) wars (M); national and naval defence (N) and offense (M); army (M) transports (N); steam (N) heat (M); postponed (N) action(M) - hence delays; Turkish baths (N) and massage (M); supplying (N) exercises (M); fire and accident (M) insurance (N); subordination of future(N) considerations to the merely expeditious(M); World (N) war (M) veterans (M); national or world (N) champions(M) - pugilists, wrestlers, etc; inspirational (N) activities (M); credit (N) emergency (M); world (N) discord (M); assumed (N) parts or roles (M) - actors; water (N) hydrants (M); oil (N) fires (M); premonition (N) of danger (M); forecast (N) of events (M), etc.

West - High (N) corporation or public (N) executives (M) - president, etc; cuts (M) in the navy (N); strengthening (M) of credit (N); act (M) on foresight (N) or shape action (M) to ideals, faith, hope or expectations (N); red-cross (M) nurse (N); accidents (M) to aviators (N), or wounded (M) sailors (N); armament(M)abolishment or postponement (N); army (M) deserters (N); strengthening (M) of interdependence (N); eager (M) enthusiasm (N); perform (M) in public (N); wrangling (M) politicians (N); fearless (N) zeal (N), etc.

N.B. The tone and subtone of one arm of this aspect is exactly reversed in the other. This makes the square contradictory - action (M) based on foresight (N) and foresight (N) learned through rash (M) action (M), postponed (N) action (M) and then lucid (N) action (M) based on vision (N) or on trusting (N) to providence (N).

120 Aspect

This aspect, termed a trine, symbolizes a good "try, try again", striving (M) for unique (U) authority (U) in some special (U) field. It is often given to experimentation, invention, exploration, manufacturing, reform (U), but because of the Mercury subtone it puts much thought (Me) into effort.

165 Aspect

180 Aspect

This aspect, an opposition, naturally means opposition, enemies, conflict within oneself and with others. Being a half-circle it stands for half-measures. When this aspect is exact it takes a blended tone of Saturn and Jupiter - noble (J) purposes allied with onerous duties (S), prolonged weighing (S) of the right (J), almost simultaneous success (J) and failure (S). Example Woodrow Wilson, who went to Europe for the good (J) of civilization (J) and so soon returned a crushed (S) and beaten (S) man.

However, when, as usually, this aspect is a few degrees more and less than 180, consider its east arm Jupiter-Jupiter, and its west arm Saturn-Saturn, as listed under B aspects, page 25. In such case note as follows:

East - Much like 165 East; bringing great (J) honors and fortune (J); positions wherein great (J) good (J) and unimpeachable (J) integrity (J) is the aim or expected of one. BUT -

West - Stern judgment, discipline, austerity, humiliation, silence, secrecy, slave or victim of precedent, doubt or fear (S). Denying, declining, frustrating, and either very greedy or very selfless (S). Opposition of the masses (S), arrest (S) of efforts to half-measures (180) and defeat (S) in time (S). Example: Contrast (a) Calvin Coolidge, with Sun 180 Saturn, Sun east and Saturn west, whose administration began with ceremonial simplicity (S) one night in a New England farmhouse (S) and ended in what was supposed in 1928 to be "standardized (J) prosperity (J)", with (b) Herbert Hoover, with Sun 180 Saturn, Sun west and Saturn east, who was inducted into office on the high tide of that "glorious (J) prosperity (J)," and whose administration closed with sweeping Saturn-Saturn repudiation (S) of his onerous (S) half-measures (180) for meeting the depression (S).

Consider, too, the ex-Kaiser and Nicholas II, both with Sun 180 Saturn, who from Royal (J) pomp (J) descended (180) respectively to quiet (S) solitude (S) and tragic (S) death (S).

N.B. - It seems almost needless to here again remind you that the exact meanings of all aspects are in each case, and in each arm thereof, qualified by the word-natures of the two planets forming the aspect; but the foregoing explanations and examples suffice to make it clear that in the heavens, as upon the earth, truly "East is east and west is west, and never the twain shall meet". For this reason the truth about the aspects is an integral part of THE ASTROLOGICAL DICTIONARY.

To read your horoscope study carefully these instructions.

(1) In THE ASTROLOGICAL DICTIONARY you are given lists of words, defining the different influences of the sun, moon and planets. Study first the foreword thereto; for at times your problems will involve a word not found in the lists. In such case refer to your Webster, weigh well the exact meaning of the word and compare it with simpler words given in the lists. You will thus often be able to associate the new word with the proper planet. For example: Suppose the word accede was not given. When it is used in the sense "to agree" you would know it is ruled by Venus because you find agree under Venus. When accede is used in a subordinate sense as "to attain to" something, such as a position of honor (Jupiter) or unique power (Uranus), you would also associate accede with one or other of these planets, because the accession (Venus) is then "taken for granted" and merely incidental to the thing acceded to. In such case it might appear that accede is ruled by Jupiter or Uranus; but an astrological lexicographer must in truth place this word in the Venus list and qualify it by bracketing after it the abbreviations of the planets ruling the words most commonly associated with it as things acceded to. As a reminder of this word accession is listed under Jupiter and followed by (V) to show dominant reference to Venus.

Remember that many words are compounds of two or more planets. As examples: The word uphold is listed under Neptune as "Uphold(S)", because under Neptune you find up and under Saturn you find hold. It is so listed in the sense of support (Neptune) rather than prop (Saturn). But in the sense that uphold means "bear (Saturn) up (Neptune)" it could also be listed under Saturn as "UPHOLD (N)". But note that such a reversal in the order of citing the rulers of the word shows the word uphold is not good English when we mean "bear up", and hence the word is listed under Neptune and qualified by Saturn rather than the other way about. In contrast a hold-up is properly listed under Saturn as "Hold-up (S)" when the word is associated with a robbery, or when it means a tie-up of affairs involving a delay (Saturn) until some future (Neptune) time (Saturn); as it is the delay (S) that is here stressed and not the "up" (N) nor the "future" (N). Thus to know planets you must know words. Therefore augment your insight of the Astrological Dictionary by studying your Webster.

(2) Under THE ASPECTS are given explanations and examples of the different meanings of the 13 angular aspects that make up the 24 (15 degree) hour-angles of the circle or horoscope. Thus in the half-circle there are 12 angles of 15 degrees and multiples thereof, and the conjunction makes one more. The other 11 angles or aspects of the other half of the circle are conversely the same angles as the first 11.

When, at the time of your birth, any two planets form any of the 13 aspects they have a long series of definite influences and meanings relative to your character, tastes, abilities and circumstances. The purpose of word-coding the planets and aspects, as herein given, is to enable YOU to read your own horoscope without spending years studying astrology; thus giving you the direct self-use of my thirty years of research. A few minutes of concentration an evening and you will soon find that reading your own horoscope is not only more fascinating and mentally stimulating than solving a cross-word or jig-saw puzzle, but will repay you in endless accurate information about yourself in both important and trivial matters. For bear in mind that the words given to each planet are not assumed meanings, as in a game, but rather their actual influence on life.

(3) IN ASPECTARIAN NO. 3, beneath the zodiacal chart furnished herewith, are given (or left to be filled in by students who do not order the horoscope and aspectarian filled in for them) the aspects, or angular relations, of the sun, moon and planets as seen from the earth on the date of your birth. These aspects are given in degrees in the oblongs opposite and under each planet. Horoscopes differ; you may have several aspects of some planets and none of others. Hence some spaces are left blank. Memorize the planetary abbreviations given in the second vertical column of the aspectarian; as Su for Sun, Mo for Moon, Me for Mercury, V for Venus, and so on; as you will need to know them in scanning The Astrological Dictionary and interpreting aspects according to their tone and subtone planets as exemplified and explained on pages 25 to 33.

N.B. In the aspectarians the aspects are given as though they were all exactly some multiple of 15 degrees apart. This is for the sake of simplicity in the interest of non-students. In reality the planets at birth are almost always more or less than in exact aspect. Students will take this into account; as the nearer exact the aspect the higher percentage is its influence on ones life, the more nearly constant will be its influence and the less time transpires in bringing about its indicated conditions. Moreover, in order to furnish non-students a chart and aspectarian with the dictionary at so low a cost it is necessary to forego computing the planets places nearer than in even degrees. But as all aspects have some influence even when they deviate as much as 3 to 5 degrees from the exact 15, 30, 45, 60, etc., only the intensity, and not the word-coding, is sacrificed to simplicity by listing each aspect in the aspectarian as though it were exact.

In the oblongs of the aspectarian, above each designated aspect or angle is (or to be) cited which planet is east (E) and which west (W). From this and reference to aspects A and B on page 25 you are to apply the words of the tone and subtone planets to the words of the planets forming the aspect. See THE ASPECTS, and example 2 on page 38.

SUMMARY

Refer to THE ASTROLOGICAL DICTIONARY for words of both planets forming the aspect, and to the words connoting the tone and subtone planet of each arm (end) of the aspect, noting which planet is east and which is west as per aspectarian. Combine these words methodically into interpretative phrases, treating each aspect separately as a phase of your life.

EXAMPLES IN READING A HOROSCOPE

An example or two will do more to clarify the correct application of THE ASTROLOGICAL DICTIONARY and THE ASPECTS to your horoscope than would a ream of further abstract instructions. Do not slight these examples through undue eagerness to at once read your horoscope. Master them and then analyze methodically your listed aspects in Aspectarian No. 3. Give yourself time to develop your analytic and synthetic faculties, and any initial mental confusion will pass. First seek in the aspects and words the cause or explanation of characteristics or events in your past. Thereby you will test your growing ability to estimate as yet unmanifested forces in your life. Any other course is likely to result in partial failure in utilizing the unlimited vistas of this system of delineation.

EXAMPLE 1.

Aspectarian No.1, next page, lists the planetary aspects at the birth of ex-Emperor William II, of Germany, born January 27th, 1859. To aid the beginner we will adhere to simplicity in this example.

Sun 120 Jupiter. In the Sun list you will find the word ambition (J). Under Jupiter the second word is abundance. Under 120 you find striving. Combining these three words you learn he would be "ambitious in striving for abundance." Add the Jupiter word fortune and the Sun-Jupiter word glory and expand the interpretation to "...abundance of fortune and glory." And so on Use for this aspect the better words of the Sun and Jupiter because 120 is an A aspect, as per third paragraph page 25.

Sun 180 Saturn. As a B aspect the 180 means opposition, conflict, and need of balance. Under the Sun find the first "bad" word is arrogant. The first dubious Saturn word is aback, and under D you find down. Hence through some great conflict destroying the balance of things his arrogance would be taken aback or down. Further, under Saturn you find later, frustrate, humiliation and defeat. From this you deduce that his ambitions(Sun) for great good (Jupiter) fortune (Jupiter), due to Sun 120 Jupiter, would later be frustrated and meet humiliating defeat. To all this add the Sun words life and emperor and the Saturn words death, hymn, hate and solitude. The aspect now reads: "A great conflict (180) during his life (Sun), involving death (Saturn) and a hymn (Saturn) of hate (Saturn), would lead not only to humiliating (Saturn) defeat (Saturn) of his ambitions (Sun), but to a life (Sun) of solitude (Saturn) for the emperor (Sun). Later you would learn that because his Sun was slightly east of an exact opposition to Saturn, the Sun would take a Jupiter tone and subtone; thus indicating for the Self (Sun) great (Jupiter) honors (Jupiter) before his Saturn defeat.

Sun 45 Neptune. Here combine the Sun word ego with the Neptune words inflation and abdication, and view them in the half-square sense of the 45 aspect. You now see the emperor (Sun) would one time suffer from an inflated (Neptune) ego (Sun) and that this would contribute to abdication (Neptune) during his life (Sun). In the further examples we will use the abbreviations of the planets forming the interpretative phrases.

Mercury 75 Mars and 135 Uranus. Under Mercury find mind and opinion. Under Mars find war, aggressiveness, military, conquest. Under Uranus find wilful, dictator, upstart, seek, autocrat, power, demigod. From this you learn that he would turn his mind (Me) to military (M) dictatorship (U), and that the opinion (Me) would one time grow that he was a wilful (U) upstart (U) seeking (U) through war (M) conquest (M) the autocratic (U) power (U) of a demigod (U). Here again you see how two or more planets combine their influences when they are in mutual crystalline angles with each other.

Planets	 Ab.	Su	Mo	Me	V	M	J	S	U	N	P
Sun	Su				Su-E V - W 45	M - E Su- W 45	J - E Su- W 120	Su-E S - W 180		N - E Su- W 45	P - E Su- W 90
Moon	Mo			Me - E Mo- W 45	V - E Mo- W 30	M - E Mo- W 120	Mo- E J - W 165	Mo-E S - W 105	Mo-E U - W 180
Mercury	Me					M - E Me- W 75	J - E Me- W 150		U - E Me- W 135
Venus	V					M - E V - W 90	J - E V - W 165	V - E S - W 135		N - E V - W 90
Mars	M						J - E M - W 75	S - E M - W 135	U - E M - W 60	M - E N - W 0

Saturn	S									S - E N - W 135	S - E P - W 90
Uranus	U
Neptune	N										P - E N - W 45
Pluto	P

*Note: E means East, W means West. Hence "Me-E" means Mercury is east of Moon, and "Mo-W" means Moon is west of Mercury. See pages 25-26 and 34-35.
 Ab. means its vertical and horizontal columns give abbreviations of the planets as used throughout the DICTIONARY and text.

Mars 0 Neptune. Under Mars war and conquest. Under Neptune world, abdication, exile. Under conjunction (0) during. Hence "abdication (N) into exile (N) during (0) a war (M) for world (N) conquest (M)." Napoleon was born with this aspect. Substitute the Neptune word banishment for the Neptune word abdication and the same phrase applies to Napoleon. Combining this with Sun 45 Neptune and you see this applied to the Kaiser as emperor (Su). In both cases Mars was east of Neptune. Therefore the influence began as war (M) and ended in respective abdication and banishment (N), as cited under the conjunction on page 28.

These unfavorable citations, however, in no way deny to him the better phases of his character to be read in some of the untouched-upon aspects in his horoscope. Try coding them yourself.

EXAMPLE 2.

As another example refer to Aspectarian No. 2, which gives the planetary aspects for the date of Abraham Lincoln's birth, February 12th, 1809.

Note carefully in this more detailed example that the tone and subtype planets of both arms of the aspects are touched upon in the interpretation. The Aspectarian is so marked; as Sun 105 Uranus, Su-E, U-W.

Sun 120 Mars. This aspect brought out in the Self (Su) the positive (an A aspect) qualities of Mars such as indicated by its words brawn, courage, conqueror, defender, executive, heroism, victory, wrestler, etc. It indicated a central (Su) figure in War (M), but the aspect being 120, as compared with the Kaiser's Sun 45 Mars, the former strove (120) on to victory (M), whereas the latter's war (M) campaign failed as but "half right" (45) from its beginning. Lincoln's Sun 120 Mars expressed a courageous (M) spirit (Su) in independence (U) of opinion (Me) throughout the vigorous (M) debates (Me) that marked his political career; thus exemplifying the tone and subtype planets of both arms of the aspect.

Sun 105 Uranus. Here we see his Self (Su relations to the rebellion (U) and that the indicated war (Su 120 M) would be one arising out of rebellion. Uranus holding the west arm of the aspect gave it a Uranus-Venus tone, showing the revolutionists (U) were eventually compelled (U) to yield (V). The Sun holding the east arm took a Mars-Pluto tone, showing Lincoln's wisdom (Su) throughout the sedition (P) conflict (M). It also showed his life (Su) lost (P) through becoming the sudden (U) victim (P) of a criminal (P) attack (M) and murder (M,P).

Sun 45 Venus. Notice this is a "bad" or negative (B) aspect for peace (V) of soul (Su). For all his wisdom (Su) he probably never felt (V) more than half-right (45) in spirit (Su) during the struggle for peace (V). But Venus holding the east end of the aspect added the gentle (V), forgiving (V) and ennobling (J) qualities that so endeared (V) him to all lovers (V) of the right (J). The Sun holding the west arm took on the tone of Pluto and subtone of Uranus, showing he would be the central (Su) figure during a most wasteful (P) rebellion (U) in which he viewed both sides as but half (45) right.

Moon 90 Mars. Here note that while Sun 120 Mars was a good (120, or A) aspect, guarding (M) his life (Su) in the daytime (Su), the Moon 90 Mars showed this precipitous (90) aspect threatened murder (M) at an evening (Mo) show (Mo). Mars in the west end of the aspect gave it a Neptune-Mars tone; hence the attack (M) on Lincoln was not aimed at him as a man, but as a high (M) public (N) executive (M) - as President (See president under Neptune qualified by Mars). The Moon holding the east arm gave it a Mars-Neptune tone, showing the scene (Mo) of the attack (M) was the president's (N,M) box (M) at the show (Mo), and that the shooting (M) would be from a public (N) stage (M) by a public (N) actor (M). Note here that the word assume is listed under Neptune, and the word part (as "part of") is listed under Mars. A stage is a place where one assumes a part and an actor one who assumes a part; hence their relation to the east arm of the 90 aspect. Do not, however, assume you will be a professional actor because you have 90 degree aspects, as that is but one meaning of hundreds you will learn by combining other Mars and Neptune words. Actual vocation is not the product of one aspect, but the sum of training (Mercury), tastes (Venus) and so on. It is often the summation of all ones aspects.....

Jupiter 135 Uranus. Here Jupiter being east takes the tone of Jupiter and Venus. Uranus being west takes the tone of Uranus and Pluto. Hence Lincoln's greatness (J), goodness (J), nobility (J) and justice (J) constituted a "grand (J) jury (V)" in behalf of "social (V) justice (J)", sitting on the case of the revolutionists (U) who in turn represented "wasted (P) initiative (U)" and a "lost (P) cause (U)". The quotes will be found listed as examples in the 135 aspect on page 32. Combine other tone-planet words and extend the meaning.

Mars 150 Jupiter. Here Jupiter is east, taking the tones of Jupiter and Mars. It thus stands for nobility and justice (J) throughout a war (M) for the right (J). But Mars was west, taking a Saturn and Neptune tone, showing how the war (M) would affect national (NS) credit (N), crush (S) hopes (N), related to the North (S) and South (N), the whites (N) and the blacks (S), and bring wholesale (N) depression (S) particularly affecting the wealth (J) of the aristocratic (J) leisure (V) classes of the east arm of the aspect. Temporarily the results of the war were "bad", but ultimately "good". Hence the importance of considering each end of the aspects on their respective merits according to their tone and subtone planetary natures, instead of loosely classifying aspects into good and bad groups such as A and B, page 25.

Jupiter 105 Neptune and Saturn. Here Jupiter is east and stands for justice (J) and right (J) amidst the wastage (P) of war (M). Neptune and Saturn are west and take a Uranus and Venus tone, showing the South (N) of his time (S) was obsessed (N) with a penchant (V) for independence (U) and freedom (U), while the North (S) held (S) for unity (S) while advocating individual (U) equality (V) for whites (N) and blacks (S). Through the east end of the aspect, held by Jupiter, the South (N) was concerned (V) in retaining (S) its wealth (J) and leisure (V) acquired (J) under slavery (S), and was "pleased (V) to secede (U)" from the North (S) to uphold (NS) its rights (J) as it saw them at that time (S), though resulting in futile (P) struggle (M).

Saturn 0 Neptune. This indicated unity (S) of the North (S) and South (N) would be upheld (NS). But as the aspect was not exact, Saturn being west showed the North (S) in the end lost (P) nothing (P); and Neptune being east, the South (N) learned (Me) its lesson (Me). Here review what was said of the conjunction (0) on page 28.

Space will not admit of further citations of Lincoln's aspects; but you are advised to attempt to analyze them in the light of history and thus prove your ability to combine the dictionary words in an orderly manner as the planets forming the aspects and the tone and subtone of each end of the aspects will dictate in the light of these examples. The significant words in these examples are underscored in the dictionary to facilitate your check-up. Go over all the cited aspects, using other allowable words, as this will best show you the unlimited range of this interpretative method. It will show you how much more there is to be learned of your horoscope than any astrologer can possibly cover in reading it for you.

At first, you may make up some interpretative phrases that do not apply to you. Try changing a planetary word here and there for another given under the same planet and you will then find it fits you perfectly. Remember also that all your life has not yet been lived, and that many deduced characteristics, events or circumstances that do not seem to apply to you may do so at some future time when your progressed horoscope "brings them out." Each time you go over your aspects and recombine their planetary words, as exemplified, you will learn just that much more about yourself.

Students of astrology may, of course, set up horoscopes for the time of eclipses, lunations, and even current daily transits, and read national or world affairs in exactly the same way. In this branch of their studies they will find the author's texts, "THE EARTH IN THE HEAVENS" and "THE STARS, WHERE AND HOW THEY INFLUENCE", a great aid in locating the geographic centers where eclipses, lunations and transits have particular effect.

Difficult, say you? Perseverance and concentration is the price of both knowledge and reward. It is up to YOU.
